

PEOPLE RALLY TO CALL FOR OWNERSHIP OF GAS AND ELECTRIC LIGHTING PLANTS

Men in All Walks of Life Join the PROMINENT MEN GIVE RINGING INTERVIEWS Organization Will Be Formed by the People and Not by the Politicians.

In answer to the call for municipal ownership, many of the patriotic citizens of Atlanta Friday afternoon clipped from The Georgian the blank printed for membership and sent it to this office, enrolling themselves as volunteers to work in the cause of civic progress.

Judge George Hillier came out in a strong interview commending municipal ownership. L. J. Daniel, president of the Daniel Bros. Company, told of how he had thought out the plan and reached the conclusion that municipal ownership was the only solution.

A Fight for the People. This is a fight for the people of Atlanta. It is a movement to help the city to release the people from the grasp of monopoly; to secure competition; to lower the price of gas and electricity; to enable the citizens of this city to enjoy the same privileges accorded the citizens of many of the most prosperous cities in the United States.

Here is what the People Say. Men in all walks of life have sent in the blanks which The Georgian printed. They requested that they be enrolled as members of the municipal ownership league.

BURLY NEGRO ATTACKS WHITE WOMAN BUT IS FRIGHTENED OFF

Mrs. Mary Chafin Is Victim of an Attempted Assault; Mob in Chase of Negro

Mrs. Mary Chafin, the wife of Henry Chafin, who lives in East Atlanta, near the Flat Shoals road, was attacked by an unknown negro late Saturday afternoon. The negro was frightened away, and a mob of seventy men is now in pursuit. The negro approached the yard and Mrs. Chafin frightened him away with a shotgun. He came back again and seized Mrs. Chafin, but was frightened away by neighbors.

A rumor reached the city late Saturday afternoon that Mrs. Mary Chafin, who lives about a mile from the Soldiers' Home, was attacked Saturday afternoon by an unknown negro. The rumor says the negro appeared in Mrs. Chafin's yard and she frightened him away at the point of a shotgun. She returned the weapon to its place and in a few moments the negro slipped back and attacked her again.

TAFT IS TO TALK WITH REBEL FIGHTING MEN

It is Believed He Will Recommend Intervention. Havana, Sept. 22.—The statement is made by a friend of President Taft that he and his cabinet will resign within the next forty-eight hours. There is now some hope of a settlement without armed intervention.

PALMA AND HIS CABINET ARE LIKELY TO RESIGN

Havana, Sept. 22.—The statement is made by a friend of President Taft that he and his cabinet will resign within the next forty-eight hours. There is now some hope of a settlement without armed intervention.

The fighting men have not yet seen the American commissioner. When they have, Mr. Taft will be in a position to reach a decision on the best course for the United States to pursue. Expect Intervention. It is reported here today that Mr. Taft has sent word to President Roosevelt that there is a possibility of hope of bringing about lasting peace except under an American protectorate backed by an armed force.

General Lozada de Castillo has written a letter from his camp at Santiago de las Vegas saying: "Tell the American people that we will accept only the annulment of the elections carried with fraud and violence when we are in good faith went to the polls, unarmed, expecting honestly that our rights would be respected."

OUR PLATFORM--The Georgian stands for Atlanta's Owning its own gas and electric light plants, as it now owns its water works. Other cities do this and get gas as low as 60 cents, with a profit to the city. This should be done at once. The Georgian believes that if street railways can be operated successfully by European cities, as they are, there is no good reason why they can not be so operated here.

The storm's scope extended from south of Cavite, but telegraph wires on land are down in all directions from the city and it is impossible to get details of what has happened.

Immense damage has also been caused on land. Buildings were blown down, trees uprooted, houses unroofed or destroyed and sheds and barns blown to pieces. It will be impossible to give any idea of the casualties until a search can be made of the wrecked buildings, as it is believed many persons are buried in the ruins of their homes.

POLICE BEGIN WORK AGAINST NEGRO CLUBS

Crusade Started Saturday Morning. One Arrest.

At a meeting of a council committee Saturday afternoon, it was decided to recommend that council deny licenses to 22 eating houses or lunch rooms. The recommendations were based on a report from Chief Jennings of the police department.

The crusade against obscene pictures in negro dives has begun. Four plain clothes officers began a tour of the negro clubs and saloons on Saturday and have made one case against a negro saloon keeper. It will be pushed to the limit by City Attorney James L. Mayson.

Chief Jennings pronounced the picture obscene and instructed the officers to make a case against Mosely. This will be tried before Recorder Broyles at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

COUNTY COPS ARE ORDERED TO THE WOODS

"Get Out of the Office," Says Chief Turner.

CHAIRMAN CARTER SENDS WORD DOWN Some of Officers Think Too Much Will Be Expected of Them.

"You men get out of here and don't call up this office any more," said Chief A. Q. Turner, of the county police, to some of his men at his headquarters at the court house Saturday afternoon. The chief had got a letter.

The letter was from Chairman E. V. Carter, of the roads and bridges committee of the county commission. Chief Turner would not say what was in the letter, but there was no doubt that it was a stirring message which Mr. Carter had written.

In effect, it had been an order to put into force at once the provision made when the county police force was increased to thirty-six men—namely, that the Atlanta headquarters be abandoned and that the men report to each other to their lieutenants and to the chief in the woods.

Some of the county officers are pretty sore over the stringent rules which the county has adopted, and it is understood that when they have to live in camps away from their families some of them will resign.

TRACY WINS RACE BY BEATING A BRIDE

By winning the race Tracy also wins a wife, for Miss Millicent Taylor, his sweetheart, had promised to marry him if he came first in the contest. She watched the great race from the grandstand and cheered her lover every time he came by.

The two leaders at the end of the seventh lap were: LeBlon, in 115-horsepower Thomas; Tracy, in 90-horsepower Locomobile; Harding in 50-horsepower Lyle, in 120-horsepower Pope-Toledo; Calotta, in 115-horsepower Thomas.

Joe Tracy had lost 6 minutes on the first lap when one of his tires burst. He re-entered to regain what he had lost at a pace of 80 miles an hour on the stretches and 60 miles an hour on the turns.

By the end of the third lap Tracy was getting every second of speed out of his car. He cut down LeBlon's lead to 21 seconds and shot past the crowded grandstand at Westbury, amid the cheers of thousands, 3-5 of a second ahead of Lyle.

Then began the battle for first place between Tracy, LeBlon and Calotta in a thrilling spurt. Tracy swung into the turn first. Then Tracy shot ahead and past the grandstand on the fourth lap, 35 seconds in the lead.

LeBlon snatched the lead from Tracy in the seventh lap amid the greatest excitement from the crowds. LeBlon was ahead by 1 minute and 16 seconds.

HON. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS WRITES HOT LETTER ON HOME'S IRREGULARIES

Says Discrepancies Need Some Explaining. FATHER OF GIRL APPEALS TO MEN TO ACT AT ONCE

Representative Williams, of Dublin, Ga., who was one of the Soldiers' home investigating committee, has written the following card to The Georgian, in response to a news story that recently appeared in an Atlanta paper, quoting Captain "Tip" Harrison's report to The Editor of The Georgian:

An article in a recent issue of an Atlanta paper amused me very much, and I trust you will accord me the use of your columns to reply. Captain "Tip" Harrison is quoted as saying that "we will continue to expel the inmates of the Soldiers' home," or words to that effect. During all the investigation of the home I recently had it was never disclosed by the evidence that Captain "Tip" had directly or indirectly the remotest authority over the home or its inmates.

No fact was disclosed during the recent investigation that reflected much more seriously upon the trustees and their authority than the fact that it was the custom of the institution, on complaint made to the president by the superintendent, without any pretense of trial or investigation of any character whatever, to immediately expel the inmates from the home.

As has been mentioned in The Georgian, there are no books of any kind kept at the home showing that the good or bad conduct of any inmate produced vouchers had ever reached or been used at the home.

TO THE CITIZENS OF FULTON COUNTY

During my absence from the city all the lesser roads should be put in first-class condition as soon as possible. Great thoroughfares, like Bellwood avenue, Marietta road, Mason and Turner's Ferry road, Roswell road, Lakewood avenue, Haigville and college Park and East Point roads, and other roads of like importance have already been ordered paved by the present board, and I am in favor of at once carrying out this order.

I am in favor of using the full power of the county to properly protect its citizens, and especially the women and children who are beyond the police protection of the city. To this end I favor the keeping and maintaining of county police to whatever number and extent necessary. I am especially in favor of rooting out all the miserable dives where intoxicants are illegally sold, especially those outside of the city limits and beyond the protection of the city police.

My opponent, Dr. Pierce, in his card of Thursday, reflects upon the official record of the Federation of Trades, the Journal of Labor, which, in its last issue, without my knowledge or seeking, has strongly editorially indorsed my candidacy for county commissioner. The untrue insinuation that the same was a paid for advertisement, I am sure will be refuted by all the friends of organized labor in this county.

As a young man who never aspired to office before and whose highest ambition is to leave an honorable record in the county, I pledge my unflinching loyalty to the interests of the people first, irrespective of any private interest or business relation I may have. I believe in development and progress, but hampered in this country must go the full protection of the public interests in the grant of all privileges and franchises. I pledge myself to the accomplishment of these ends, and believe that by the application of sound business principles to these business matters the greatest amount of good can be done.

The more economically and permanently the roads are constructed, the greater number of roads the county will be able to construct; and certainly all the old well-established public roads should be first put into permanent paved condition to the county line, and

VICTIM OF NEGRO SAYS ONE IN JAIL IS NOT ASSAILANT

A negro, who on Thursday morning worked for about two hours on the home of Frazier Morgan, in Oakland City, is now being sought for as the man who assaulted Mrs. John A. Kimball later that same day. He asked Mr. Morgan for work about 8 o'clock in the morning and was put to splitting stovewood. After working about an hour he quit and left without asking for pay or anything to eat, going in the direction of the Kimball home. Charlie Clayton was released from the Tower Friday evening. He had been held since Friday night, but Mrs. Kimball said after one look at him that he was not the right man. The man who had been working for Mr. Morgan is believed to have come to his place for the same purpose which he afterwards accomplished at the Kimball home. On account of the presence of a negro woman servant in the house and a negro man working for A. F. Morgan in the yard next door he realized, however, that he had no opportunity for the crime and left. He was dressed just as described by Mrs. Kimball in blue army trousers and a khaki coat, was very black and had his hair closely clipped. This is exactly the description furnished by the victim of the assault. It is said that the same negro was recently on the chain gang for several months. For the last week or two he has been hanging around Oakland City and vicinity, part of the time being engaged in helping haul wood from the woods near the Kimball home. The county police are pretty certain they have this man located and hope to arrest him within a few days. Judge Andy Calhoun is doing his part toward getting rid of the idle class to whom these crimes are attributed by sending every person, white and black, on whom a vagrancy charge is proved, to the chain gang for twelve months, without the option of paying a fine. During the past several months have gone to the gang on this charge each day.

TILLMAN IS ASKED TO MAKE ADDRESS AT BIG CONVENTION

It is probable that Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, of South Carolina, will be one of the speakers at the banquet to be given October 25 in honor of the Carriage Builders' Association. Communications urging the acceptance of the invitation have been sent to the distinguished South Carolinian by Governor Terrell and Mayor Woodward. The banquet will be one of the largest affairs, if not the largest, ever given in Atlanta as there will be 3,000 delegates to the joint convention of the Carriage Builders' National Association, A. C. Brunsden, of Cincinnati, president of the Southern Vehicle Association; Lucius Gregory, of Chase City, Va., president, and the National Farm Wagon Association; Max Robinson, of Marlinsburg, West Va., president. The other speakers who have been invited to address the association on the evening of the 25th are Hoke Smith, John Temple Graves and Lucius Gregory. Secretary Elliott Dunn, of the Atlanta Vehicle Club, who has worked unceasingly for the past two months in arranging the big convention has completed the program. It is as follows: October 23, 10:30 A. M.—Meeting called to order in agricultural building, Piedmont park. Address of welcome by Governor Terrell and reply by Sam D. Jones, on behalf of the Atlanta Vehicle Club. In the afternoon, 4:30 o'clock, joint meeting of the three associations. In the evening, 8:30 o'clock reception at the Kimball House in honor of the three presidents and their wives. October 24, 10:30—Business meeting. At the same hour there will be a trolley ride for the ladies and escorts. At 4:30 a reception on roof of the Candler building. In the evening, 8:30, grounds at Piedmont Park will be opened and the public invited to inspect the exhibits of the associations and to participate in the music and other features furnished. October 25, 10:00 o'clock—Business meeting, 1:30, barbecue at Piedmont Park. 8, theater party to the ladies and escorts. Banquet at the Kimball. The banquet will be the annual affair of the kind, and it is found impossible to arrange for sufficient seating capacity at the Kimball, will be given at the skating rink at Fonce DeLeon. October 26—Trip to Palmtoot, where the cotton fields will be shown to the delegates and where refreshments will be served.

PEOPLE RALLY TO CRY FOR OWNERSHIP OF LIGHTING PLANTS

certainly think the city should light its own streets.

"Work For This Movement." Judge George Hillier, the pioneer municipal ownership advocate in Atlanta, said:

"I made a carefully prepared address before the chamber of commerce in a debate specially called and held to discuss municipal ownership about eight years ago. If I do say it myself, the argument has never been answered and never can be. This I am proud to say was, as I think, the pioneer movement in favor of municipal ownership in our city. Experience justifies the remark that the argument never has been answered and never can be successfully.

"I have repeated the argument on various occasions, notably at Mercer University and again before the National Municipal League in Detroit. There is great comfort to all people who love our city in the belief that these opinions now almost universally prevail.

"Our city once voted in a primary by over 5,000 majority in favor of Atlanta erecting and operating an electric light plant of her own; but such were the adverse influences that nothing came of it.

"It is greatly to be hoped that the movement in favor of both an electric light plant and a gas plant owned by the city has now received such overwhelming favor that nothing can stop it.

"Let everybody put personal ambition to the rear and right-minded men come to the front on the basis of an honest desire to benefit, not themselves but the public and give this additional priceless heritage to our children and our children's children. Let us love this good work because it is good, and because it is good work for it. If it needs to make sacrifices for it, not for any offices we are going to get or any rewards we may hope for only that of an approving conscience and the just approval of upright and honorable men. These rewards are worth more than diamonds or gold and now, in our times have they come in sight more plainly than now held out in this issue for attainment by men who love their city and state.

"Yes, I am in favor of forming a municipal ownership league and will gladly join such an organization when properly set on foot and organized on the basis proposed as I understand it."

From COURTLAND S. WINN. "The city of Atlanta can, and should, own and operate its own gas and electric lighting plant. The city should appoint a commission composed of members of the city council, charged with the duty of investigating thoroughly the practicability of installing and operating these plants. The commission should employ a practical expert engineer, who should report to this commission plans and cost of construction.

"From information acquired as a member of the general council of the years 1902-'03, and as a member of the electric lighting committee for said years, I am convinced that the city should build these plants, even if it do so should require a bond issue to raise the money necessary to equip and operate such plants. I believe a close, careful investigation of the matter will demonstrate that it is good business policy and a matter of genuine economy to issue bonds to raise funds for this purpose, and that the saving in the cost of municipal lighting alone, until the maturity of the bonds, will be a sum sufficient to go a long way toward, if not completely, paying the bonds as they mature. A plan should be made for operating such plants already in the city's possession and control—conduits are now in the streets and conduits by the city. The city owns the Lakewood or old waterworks property, where there is already a water power which could be utilized to generate electricity. If this should not be sufficient, the power at the present waterworks station on the Chattahoochee could be used for this purpose. The time seems auspicious for municipal ownership of gas and electric lighting plants in Atlanta and I believe the general council will find the way to put it in practical operation."

Will Give Time and Money. "I am glad The Georgian has taken up this fight. It is something that must come. We must have it. I am with the movement and the league here and now and will give both my time and money toward it."

This coming from L. J. Daniel, president of Daniel Brothers' Company, 45 Peachtree street, and one of the most prominent merchants in Atlanta, sounded encouraging, but not half as encouraging as the rest of what Mr. Daniel had to say on the subject. "I am not carried away by municipal ownership through any sudden decision," said Mr. Daniel, "but have advocated it for years. I have attempted to get two other papers in the city to take the matter up, but because of their policy they have hung back. I do not think this is a time for asking concessions; but it is a time to examine into the status and the right of all parties. It would be a distinct gain of dignity on the part of Atlanta to regulate a corporation which, perhaps, has no right of operation."

"For the last ten years the Georgia Railway and Electric Company has put men in the field and tried to elect them by contributing campaign funds. For the past four years the company has taken a decided stand to elect men looking after the interests of the company. Now the time has come to put an end to this and let the city be run in the interest of the people. The Municipal Ownership League will make this possible, so let us have it."

The resolutions followed: To Fulton Lodge, No. 32, I. O. O. F.: Today we are called upon to cast our eyes to the lonely spot that leads our unwilling footsteps to the side of the little mound where rests in peaceful slumber that knows no waking, the earthly form of our beloved brother, Past Grand C. D. Camp.

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Wilson, Fulton Lodge, No. 32, I. O. O. F., loses one of its most enthusiastic members, whose place cannot be replaced.

THE THEATERS

SCENE FROM "WONDERLAND" AT THE GRAND

After a long and successful run at the Majestic Theater last season and scoring one of the few musical comedies hits of the metropolitan year, "Wonderland" will be the attraction Monday and Tuesday at the Grand.

"Wonderland" is the musical offspring of Victor Herbert, and the book and lyrics are the product of Glen McDougall's brain. It is a production of Julian Mitchell, who is responsible for those two notable extravaganzas, the "Wizard of Oz" and "Babes in Toyland," and is said to be the masterpiece of his well-known taste and ability in color and stage effects.

"The Toast of the Town." Jane Kennark, last seen here in "The Eternal City," will present Clyde Fitch's play, "The Toast of the Town," at the Grand next Wednesday and Thursday.

"How Baxter Butted In." Owen Davis' latest play, that much-talked of combination of character comedy and rural drama, "How Baxter Butted In," is offering at the Bijou next week.

SIDNEY TOLER IN "HOW BAXTER BUTTED IN."

Mary Jane Perkins, the housemaid of the deceased millionaire, Mrs. S. J. Perkins, whose voice was for years one of the chief attractions of A. G. Field's company, is with Dockstader this season, and "The Edmond" is the skit chosen by Law for his local hits.

Al Field came again Friday night with his retinue of silk-clad singers and as always the Grand was filled to a point where even the standing room sign was taken down. That the crowd liked the show was evident in the applause that followed every hit.

It would be a waste of space to attempt a criticism of a minstrel show. Men go to the minstrels who never visit any other form of entertainment. They go to laugh and they do laugh. They have no standard for comparison except the minstrel of other seasons.

Al Field in 1906 is neither better nor worse than the Al Field of 1905 or 1904, for any of the seasons in the past decade. There are many of the old faces recognizable, even under the burnt cork of minstrelsy. There are new ones which may in their turn become old favorites.

Lillian Russell in Drama. Lillian Russell, heroine of a hundred romances, queen of light opera for seasons unnumbered, has turned from musical comedy, in which she sang last season, to a play without music save for one little song, "Barbara's Millions," a drama adapted from the French by Paul Potter.

Work of Rescuing.

Rescuers began work soon after the explosion, and medical aid was asked of Knoxville, which sent a dozen physicians. Twelve of the most seriously injured were sent to a Knoxville hospital on last night's train. The holding of inquests over the bodies of the victims was begun yesterday afternoon, but was not completed. Mayor R. B. Baird issued a circular notifying the public that all persons found on the streets after 8 o'clock at night would be arrested, unless they were owners of buildings or stocks of goods, or agents therefor. Many people are being arrested as a result of the disaster, and as almost every chimney was destroyed, cooking cannot be done in any of the houses.

DAVIS MENTIONED AS THE DARK HORSE

Brannen Issues Letter Explaining His Withdrawal Statement.

Special to The Georgian.
Statesboro, Ga., Sept. 22.—Much interest is felt here in the action of the convention which meets at Waynesboro next Monday to nominate a congressman for the First district.

Since the first session of the convention here, when Mr. Brannen and his opponent, Mr. Sheppard, could not agree on a settlement, the Brannen delegation has been free to choose another man, and they have stood by Brannen for 481 ballots.

During the last session Mr. Brannen sent to the convention a note in which he said that he considered the harmony of the party to which he belonged of more importance than the success of one man. He therefore asked that they nominate some good man as standard-bearer. Shortly after the reading of this note the convention was moved to Waynesboro.

SAVANNAH THEATER REDUCED TO ASHES; NO PERFORMANCE ON

Historic Play House Is Destroyed by Fire—Oldest in the United States.

Special to The Georgian.
Savannah, Ga., Sept. 22.—The Savannah theater, which was destroyed by fire last night, was the oldest theater in the United States.

Spectacular Blaze.

A tremendous crowd gathered to watch the fire. Many women and children were in the crowd. It was not generally known that there had been no play at the theater. The word was passed through the crowd that there had been a fire in progress, and that there were people in the burning building. There was great excitement until the crowd was made to understand this was not true. There was no performance at the theater, but had there been there would have been loss of life, so rapid was the spread of the flames. The fire occurred about twenty minutes after the hour at which the curtain usually rises.

WAS ERECTED IN 1818.
The building was erected in 1818, and a fruitful subject of dispute has been as to whether it was the oldest or the second oldest theater in this country. One in Philadelphia is said to have been older.
The theater was owned by Albert Wels, of New York, and was in the Greenwald theatrical circuit. It was valued at $75,000. There is no other play house in Savannah and there will be a general cancelling of all dates. The fire is thought to have originated from a defective electric wire insulation.

MILITARY UNIFORM RULING IS OPPOSED

Special to The Georgian.
Bainbridge, Ga., Sept. 22.—The question of whether the trustees of the Bainbridge public schools have a right to charge a matriculation fee and to enforce the regulation requiring every male student 4 feet and 6 inches in height to purchase a military uniform has again been brought before the citizens of Bainbridge. Last year an injunction was filed by J. C. McCaskill and C. W. Wimberly, restraining the trustees from enforcing the regulation requiring military uniforms. This injunction was set aside by the supreme court on the grounds that they failed to go about it in the right manner. Several children were expelled from the schools because of their failure to conform to the military regulation. The same thing has occurred this year and a majority of the citizens are very indignant because of this action.
